Still glittered on the badley. The back was singing to his mate, The wild bels chimed their warning, We proved awhile outside the gate; We lingered till it was too late To go to church that morning.

Again we went. The whispering leaves Glanced aigh in high and shadow. The request piled the gallow sheaves; "The best humne lover the meadow. The royal sun to see up in statu. Our marriage day a borning; The bells rang out; with steel the gate, And neither of us was too late. To go to church their morning.

A Queen Wedding. The Hartfird Post relates a carious inclient near that city.—
Mis. Eliza Barn-ley, a young war widow, had been counted and won by a young law-yer from Pravideade, who spent his vasation in the neighborhood. The day for the martiage was fived and all the atrangements made, but at the appoint of hear the hide-groun came not. He had gone from the town in an early trafa. The bride was disconsolate, the frheads outraged. Wonse than all, the dimer was center speaked by fown he an early train. The bride was dis-contobate, the friends outraged. Worse than all, the dimer was getting spatial by waiting. Seeing this stare of affairs, one of the invited great, a mildde-aged farmer, who had been a storet admirer of Mrs. Barnsley, and whom she had encouraged hadre the lawyer's advent, stepped uppeller, of to take the groun's place, and was ac-cepted. They were married, ate their din-ner, and proofse to make a happy comple.

One executingly warst day in dame a neighbor met an o'd nam and remarked that it was very hot. "Yes," said day, 'if it wasn't for one thing I should say we were going to have a time," "What is that?" inquind his friend. "There's nothing froze says doe." The man went on his way.

SATURDAY, September 11, 1867. THE PRESIDENT'S ADVISERS.

In forming a currect estimate of the Pres dent's position relative to public affairs, it is requisite to take into consideration the sources whence the influence has come which has aided and encouraged him in his course. It is evident at once that his counsellors have not been of those to whom the Republicans and loyal people have been wont to look for guidance or leadership. Jeremiah Black, who, as a member of Mr. Buchanan's Cabinet, advised that feeble trust tionary that he had no power to coerce the rebellions South, and Messrs. Stanbery and Binckley, whom no one ever heard of until they gave Mr. Johnson the opinions which have been his warrant in some of his most obnoxious acts, have lead an influence in the recent measures of his administration which would never have been accorded them in a purely republican cabinet.

The Southern politicians and presses are involved in this responsibility to but a small degree, the great number of them having been silent or opposed to the measures that have been pursual; while men and presses of the North have used their best endeavors in encouraging him in a course which, it was not difficult to see, was most detrimental to the material and political interests of the South. In all the sections of the North are those who exalt at every movement Mr. Johnson makes in opposition to Congress and these are, almost without exception purveyors to the political opinions of Demogratic readers.

With the exception of those who were rebellion, the voice of the South does not speak in favor of Mr. Johnson's policy. A few have taken positions adverse to acquiescence in the reconstruction have and advised against registration. These are persons whose hearts are still in rebellion regainst the government and whom no pardon can cleanse from that stain until they do works appropriate to repentance. On the other hand, those who from patriotic and disinterested avaives here arms against the Union and sincerely staked their cause upon either leaders or active participants in the of the year: their defeat, abandoned their opposition and become supporters of the efforts that are making to restore harmony to the country. Those who are eadeavoring to bring about this consumnation, at the North, constitute the Republican party. We are aware that the Democratic organs are busy in circulating statements in opposition to this assertion. Yet the public action that has been taken shows conclusively that that party walts only for guarantee that will secure the govcoming to the Union the States that have wandered from the fold.

Meanwhile, every impediment thrown in welcomed by the presses of the opposite nough to enjoy the comforts of his family. party as if Mr. Johnson were its representative and his sets were its policy. He is thus encouraged to hope to be welcomed as a leader of the Democracy; and he has practically thrown himself into the arms of that party, which is, in this way, compelled to assume both him and his policy. An effort is now made to reject this unwelcome alliance. The Horld is unwilling to receive him and his unpopularity. Since he can do nothing for its success and would be an incubus to any organization, he is east off as useless and undestrable, although he has been laboring to restore, and unite the branches of the party North and South. But it cannot be so easily done. Mr. Johnson's work has been done for the Democracy and they will be compelled to carry bim, though his weight may press heavily upon

The New York Bank Troubles.

Five weeks ago he notified the President that the deficiency must be made good, but this order, like that a good work has been done in Potence. Since the indialic of March last, many others before it, was disregarded, and when the Examiner called last week and tropolitan Music Hall, have been converted; about 80 persons, through the instrumental found the account : till short, he decided to found the accenaritif short, he decided to bring the bank up with a sharp turn. Before the directors knew that anything was ing knowledge of the Lord. The meetings wrong, a receiver had been appointed by the Complication in Washington, and the Land was ingo accident of the United States.

A branch connector which was established at the Lord of the Lord A branck contern which was established at Greenpoint a few months ago was closed up at the same time. The closure of both banks ransed great inconvenience to the deposited many of whom wanted money to pay off tack employes, and could not get a a dollar. The workingmen whose employers kept acceptable in the bank were the greatest sufferes after all, for hundreds of them had to so being to their families, that Saturday night, without a dollar to buy their Sunday dinner Speculation was, of course, the external all the trouble. The present bank was all the time lending money to speculators, and could not get it back again, when it was wanted. The bill holds ers are all tight, and it is believed the depasitors will be. If the assets fall short of paying all liabilities, the directors will be a sessed for the deficiency, and compelled to pay it. The authorities are determined to put this ever right through, and make it on example for other banks in profit by.

FOREST AND SHADE TREES. - Ben. Perley Poore, in his address at the New Hampshire State Agricultural Fair, said:

The Importance of our forest trees, so essential to the development of our other physical resources, can scurcely be over estimated, and the extreme rapidity of their disappearance with the disproportionately limited efforts made for replacing them, are matters for seri-

Our country, dismanded of its forests, would be like Sampson shorn of his locks, yet there is danger that this will be the case. A comparison with Europe shows that white there the carefully cultivated forests are increasing—those of the United States are diminishing, in geometrical ratio proportionate to the increase of population, and they must decrease still faster as the woodless plains of the West are settled, and draw their supplies from the Past. Already (although the woodless plains have yet been scarcely encroached on by settlers), the partially woodled Paririe States of the upper Mississippi Valley, with about thirty percent, of surface timbered, have to draw almost all their building materials from path comparison with Europe shows that white needs of surface timbered, have to draw almost all their building materials from north of battude 43 degrees. THE CITY CHEE. - Some of the corres pundents from this place make considerable sport out of our unique institution of a city erier. They say this is the only place where this ancient office is continued. This is a mistake. Nantucket had such an officer a few years ago, and we believe, still has,-And why not? The crier saves some people a deal of trouble in reading news papers to know what is lost or found, what metion sales are to come off or what concerts are promised. Newspaper advertising is a comparatively modern invention, and persons who cannot read are mable to get the requisile information from them. Besides, the criership affords compensation to an officer who is thus relieved of a part of the anxieties for a livelihood which might be his lot if his office were abulished. The sound of his bell keeps alive the memory of former years and usages. It is a vestige of the customs of the fathers - We shall be too thoroughly modernized if we have no erier. Let those green ones from new, upstart towns; who never heard a crier's bell or voice laugh when it sounds in their cars and write smart custom and enjoy the tinkling music and sonorous voice, and, when away, cherish the memory of them as one of the charms of our island city home.

Price of a Bett, -Ouce upon a time the city erier of Newport was in want of a bell. He knew a certain hotel-keeper who had discarded his old dinner-hell for a gong, and applied to him to purchase the second-hand article rather than invest the full price of a new one. The host could not give the price as he did not know the cost, but said he would ascertain and let the crier know. After repeated applications the erier, in dis tress for want of a beil, insisted on completing the purchase when the other said, "If you will ring at my door every time you cry anything in the streets, you shall have the bell." The terms were agreed to, and since then that official always crosses the street in front of that holel, and the guests have an opportunity of knowing what is to be sold at every auction thus announced,

The Atlantic will continue open for some time as it has yet a considerable number of guests, and is deservedly popular with all Both of these houses have done a fair basiness during the summer notwithstanding the reports to the containy, and the persistent efforts to represent the season at Newport as a failure. The Aquidneck House keeps open the year round, and it is in every respect a first class establishment. So also the Perry, United States and Pelliam street never close their doors. The Park House has been put in thorough requir since the fire, but is no et occasion.

Camiligham's Emportunt.

A few dayeding we had the pleasure of visiting the manuscult Emportum of B. P. Cumlingham, at the corner of firming and Relay streets. On approaching the building, we were impressed, an ideal/dest most of our readers have been largereast, with the fact that, in getting must be procedure, with the fact that, in getting up an imposing establishment, the that, in getting up an imposing establishment, the painters art is a very essential regardement. Mr. Cunningham scena to have fully appreciated this teath, as the nearly gainted walls of his four-story brick store hear ample witness. You read, in great hack letters, upon a ground-work of pair gellow, that you have reached Conningham's warehouse; and this being jour destination, you of course cuter the commentum downs of the Royal story instrume, when complete appointment of a palace or n cottage. What more particularly strikes you, honever, is the great array of crecker; and gless ware. Then of abetrs in different parts of the room are packed with this class of goods, among which we some of the rarest and most beautiful epochemics of thina and percelain ware ever lutroduced into this country. The designs on some of the articles are in the highest degree artistic, and present a harmoniess threading of colors which would carnish my painting. Before chology, we must not must to make mention of Mr. Countightum's system of lossing goods—a system peculiar to this establishment, and one which has been the means of great convenience and benefit

By this arrangement many a young couple, starting out in married life, have been able to furnish a house and "set up borrekeeping," while the amount per week which they were enabled to save from the cost of boarding, soon aggregated sufficient to liquiditie the meet any lates. to bjublate the merchant's claim. It is, also, many caree, a convenience to business men, who do not want to space a large amount of money, which might be more profitably employed. Of course, all might be more profitably employed. Of course, all transactions in this ilino are over and above the cash business of the consortion, which appears to handreds of thousands of dollars annually.

It may not be inappropriate to mention that the liberry of Mr. Cunningsham is similar to bistories of so many other prominent American merchants—that of a poor boy, who has worked his way to the plannaction of a wast husiness. If we may bedge anything from the fact that all the goods in the Emportum are raid for any formula. paid for, and from the appearance of Mr. Coming-ham's elegant residence on Broadway, we should think It safe to say that the owner of the catabilehment we have sketched, is "comfortably well on."

For many pears Mr. Complagham has ranked among our most reliable merchants. Doing a strictly ash husbress, when other firms have been tossed and haken in thuncial storms, he has rafely outsidden the tempers and been able to lead a helylog hand to those who needed aid. Strict attention to bedness; the use of therea and extensive advertising, which Mr. Consingham knows full well the value of, as a means of bringing to the knowledge of the public, the varied articles of the Emparkum; promptones in all his transactions have been among the tempers of his varied articles of his Emportum; prominious in an his transactions have been among the elements of his secrece. Built out a permanent foundation there is no reason why such success about not continue to afford to the young an example of what may be accomplished by devotion to business and an adaptation of one's means to the end of obtaining a fortune.

LENE'S NEW YORK CIRCUS.—This relebrated Mo-impolitan Troups, which is to exhibit here on the 23d ust, is penumently located in New York on Four inst., is penamently located in New York on Four-teenth Sirect, opposite the Academy of Marke, and only travels for a short time, each year, during the warm weather. It is now on its way home after a good successful scason, and will recopen at its winter quatters a week or here after performing here. The reputation which the company austrians where it is best known, may be inserved from the following notification, and the instruction of the Home Journal:

"Wit Long, at the end of a prosperous season, may will comparabate dimeted upon harder accomplished that which many of our theatriest managers might well aspire to—the deviation of the peneral character of these amusement which the most familians may enjoy, but been proven by the first class andle one of the control and direction. The great work undertaken by the Washington III brary Company of Philadelphia, for the endowment of the direction and Assistant Assistant Home and College for the orphina of these rebliers who were fed at the Nobla National Refreshment Saloon of that city, goes bravely on. That their nobio object may be most surely accomplished, they have lasted five series of the elect-plate engravings, one of which is given with every share of slock sold, at prices much below their retail vatice. In connection with this ruper him-ductional weary characholder is guaranteed a present in the great distribution of $50,000 worth. Many of them are quite fortunes of themselves. We notice that one is worth as high as $40,000, another $50,000, another $15,000, one $10,000, one $5000, two $20 each, and a large number ranging from $100 to $50 each. Head Advertisement.

Washington Matters. Trom Priday Creding's distinction ind tomple the following items:

The President professive to the similaria to-day at the apparently ex-cathedra state meat in an Eastern dournally hield untici-pates on order from him opening the lists of voters and extending the time for registration. He devices emphasically any such intention and edds that the whole marter is regulated by the supplemental act of July, section seven, wherein District Communders are authorized to extend the time to October I, and to allow Boards of Registration to simply revise their lists. for the pertiod of five days. If any pardoned individual chilats the right to be registered then, and is refused, the President states that the remedy is in the Courts and not in the Ex ccutive.

The correspondent of the New York Evening Post says: "I have authority for saying that Gen Banks, while here, orged General Grant to retain the War Office, even if the President attempted to remove him and appoint another to the place. A special says Generals Sickels, Hancock and Sheridan will be in Washington next week. Private letters state that Gen. Camby has determined to edont the same line of policy as that pursued by Gen. Sightes. Gen. McClellan will not return to this country for years.

The returns at the Treasury yesterday Show that there were that \$393,000,000 of the several issues unconverted,  $-\frac{1}{8}7,900,000$ of which matured in August, the conversion of which expires on the 15th inst. \$156, 000,000 mature next June and the balance next July. The entire short date indebtedness of the Government is less than \$500,000,000against \$1,100,000,000 at the heginalay of the year. The Secretary of the Treatury considers that the Trecoury has passed th most critical period.

There is considerable indignation amorgovernment officials that amother oath of . loyalty is to be made by Binckley, who refused to take the oath when a clerk in the Land office.

Gen. Grant will be immediately removed and Frank P. Disir, Jr., till the office of Secretary of War until Attorney Gen. Star bery las returned to Washington.

Ex-Governor Pratt of Maryland is con-String with the Government relative to the anticipated trouble at the forthcoming of eion, it being stated that the negroes are being urged to claim the right to yote on the question of the adoption of the new State Constitution. It is thought probable that the Siste will have to call on the Gen eral Covernment for military aid,

There were a large number of visitors of the Excentive mansion yesterday,

It is now said that the President will mak no more changes in his cabinet until after the fall elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio and New York. He is reported to be of the opinion that matters are just right, and the his vindication at the pulls is certain.

The closing hours of the Spiritualist Con-The closing nows at the spiritualist Con-vention at Cleveland are represented as tuv-ing been characterized by great turbulence. The discussion was hot and turbulence, harded with such expressions as "infernal secondrel," "notorious liar," and at one time the prospect of a free light was intuin-ent.

The New York World, in behalf of the Democratic party, repudiates President Johnson, denounces his administration, and declares that the Democratic party will be saddled with him and his blunders.
